A fine vintage

Many old favourites are having a revamp with subtly updated packaging that will enhance your dressing table

FROM LEFT TO RIGHT British perfumery Floris offers a bespoke service that used only to be available to the privileged few. You can have your own unique blend made for £95, while the creation of an entirely personalised scent costs £2,500, and Floris's antique bottles are available too. Tel: 0845 702 3239.

So popular was last year's limited-edition Eight Hour Cream, Elizabeth Arden has reissued it in retro packaging, for vintage-lovers to enjoy. £15, available nationwide. Berkeley Square's 20s-style bath and body goodies feature a lavender range, which includes Bath and Shower Cream, £6.95. The products are prettily packaged, punchy smelling and available in Christmas gift sets, from £9.95. Tel: 020 7887 7898.

Shu Uemura has relaunched its fabulous bath oils range, Pleasure of Japanese Bath. Sakura (cherry blossom) is a gentle floral, with camomile extract and vitamin E. £11. Tel: 020 7240 7635.

Nulon's Hand & Nail Cream, £3.99, dates back to the 50s and has now been reformulated. Among the company's new 'hand groomers' are Smooth Operator Hand Treatment Scrub, £3.99, from Superdrug nationwide.
